Last month I went on a tour of New York City with my family. We stayed at a five-star hotel. It was extremely comfortable and in a good location. On the first day, we took a short trip to Liberty Island to see the statue of Liberty. The next day, we visited the Empire State Building, the ninth longest building in the world and watched the great views of the city from the 103rd floor through telescopes. That was the most exciting experience of my life. We had to stay at the hotel on the third day as there was a terrible storm and it was chilly. On the last day, we had a great time in the Central Park. It's an incredible place to be in the nature.

Hi Mark

I'm having a brilliant time with some friends in Cancun, Mexico. We visited the Interactive Aquarium yesterday morning and we swam with dolphins. Can you believe that? It was really an amazing experience. You must definitely try it. My friends also swam with sharks, but I can never try it as it is too dangerous. In the afternoon, we decided to try skydiving and paragliding, but it was too windy and chilly. So, my friends went to explore the caves in Cacahuamilpa. As I'm not keen on caving, I visited Teotihuacan, the city of the Gods, instead. It's a complex of huge pyramids and it's the oldest ruins of Mexico city. I really enjoy discovering such ancient civilizations. We're planning to go to Playa Del Carmen, one of the best beaches in Mexico with its soft golden sand. The travel guide says turtles, tropical fish and more are common sights there and the water is safe and calm enough to swim and dive. I hope the weather will be sunny. You can't guess where I am at the moment. I'm having a boat tour along the River Grijalva to experience the fascinating view of Sumidero Canyon. It's extremely impressive.

George
