Matt: Hi, Penny! How are you?

Penny: Matt! Great to see you again. I'm fine. How about you?

Matt: I feel sad because the holiday is over. How was your holiday?

Penny: It was great! We drove to Colorado with my parents. Then, we climbed a mountain and stayed in a tent. We picked flowers and ate dinner outside. Everyday was like a big picnic!

Matt: A tent! I don't think I can sleep in a tent. Tents are very uncomfortable! What else did you do?

Penny: Well, I swam in a lake, it was fascinating. Also, I took photos of lovely nature there. So, what about you? What did you do on holiday?

Matt: I had a trip to San Francisco with my family. We stayed in a comfortable hotel.

Penny: Now, that sounds boring. There is no adventure in staying in a hotel!

Matt: I disagree. It is not easy to find a good hotel. Our hotel was close to a popular seaside.

Penny: So, what did you do there?

Matt: I swam in the pool in the mornings and sunbathed. I love sunny weathers. Then, I did different activities and played pool games. In the evenings, I watched movies and I read books!

Penny: I took some books to our tent, too!

Matt: We have something in common then. I'm glad you spent nice time, Penny.

Penny: Me too, Matt.
