History of Ballooning in Cappadocia

History of hot air balloons goes back to 1980s. In 1984, Raks (Cassette Tape Company) brought the first hot air balloon for a marketing project. Raks performed many flights in Cappadocia until 1987. The flights were conducted without passengers. As Cappadocia becomes a popular destination, many new balloon companies brought hot air balloons to the region in the following years. Thanks to its historical texture, geographical beauties, Cappadocia has become a worldwide known destination for balloon tourism. Balloon flights are also carried out in Ihlara Valley in Aksaray. It is also known as a part of Cappadocia region. Except for the Cappadocia region of Turkey, many attempts have been made to introduce balloon tourism in other parts of Turkey, but they ended up.
