OUR ADVENTURE IN SAMARKAND, UZBEKISTAN

I visited a family in Samarkand and tried traditional dishes like pilaf and shashlik. The pilaf ceremony was interesting to me. Pilaf is cooked in a large pot over an open flame and served in a big dish for everyone to share. The head of the household or guest of honour is served first to show respect.

Brian

I attended a wedding in Samarkand. The women wore bright and smart dresses with gold or silver details. The men wore suits or traditional Uzbek coats called chapan. The atmosphere was joyful.

Emily

I visited many historical landmarks in Samarkand, such as Registan Square and Shah-i-Zinda. They were amazing and full of history.

David

I went to the Samarkand Botanic Garden. Spending time there and exploring different plant species was a great experience. The garden had many interesting plants like roses, pomegranates, and lavender. It was a peaceful and relaxing place.
