An ancient Mayan city in Mexico with a big pyramid and other cool structures. It took me four hours to visit all of Chichén Itzá.

On March 15, 2025, a sudden outbreak of food poisoning affected over 200 people in the City of Riverside. The hospitals in the city were overwhelmed with patients experiencing symptoms such as vomiting and stomach cramps. Emergency teams were sent to help manage the situation, and health inspectors immediately began checking food safety practices in the area. The restaurant was temporarily closed for investigations, and the public was warned to avoid eating there until further notice.
